Hi Judith. We've started weekly technical calls w DEC and DOH. Angela is leading. On our first call, last week, DOH told us they had gotten the new data and would send it to us as soon as they finished notifying the homeowners of the results. They said we'll get the data during the week of Jan 25. They said one private well was above 400. We're waiting to see which one it was. The next interagency technical call is on 1/27.

See above. Also , Doug or Arlene , on Monday please find out when will we receive the December and January private well test results. Seems like doh certainly should have December results in by now. Thanks. Judith
